Welcome!

~~Dear Social Science Colleagues:~~

Welcome one and all to the 2019 Western Social Science Association Annual Meeting we are hosting in lovely San Diego. At the risk of sounding like a carnival bark, “have we got a show for you!” As I welcome you as the president of WSSA, I am reminded fondly of how I became involved in the organization. As a graduate student many years ago, I attended the annual meetings held in Reno, Nevada, and in my interaction with Ed Williams, a very accomplished scholar doing great border research, Ed noted to me, “careful, you most likely will end up as President one day!” Ed, you are right! Over the last 20 years, I have been an active member of the WSSA, and its borderland section, the Association for Borderlands Scholars. In my arc with these groups, I remember Jim Peach advising, “you really should get involved with the WSSA Board, a great way to keep the WSSA and ABS connected and to give back to the WSSA.” After two stints on the Board and one term as Vice President, you all elected me as President Elect. It was an honor last year to transition to the President of this great group. On with the show!

~~This year’s conference promises to be one of the most highly attended and quality events in our history. At press time, we had a total of 1,005 individual papers, 252 separate session panels, and the large block of rooms at the Hyatt Manchester sold out at the earliest date we have ever experienced. As people that have attended past WSSA conferences can attest, we truly are an inclusive, warm, and supporting group. Literally hundreds of people with a passion for applied social science research have found a home here, and our work is especially relevant to many of the challenges that the world currently faces. To highlight our potential contribution to solving these challenges, I have organized a transdisciplinary roundtable that goes off at 8am on Thursday, “Making the case for the relevance of social science in addressing current global, national, and regional challenges.” I hope to see you “early birds” there.~~

Ok, but what about the conference venue, the Manchester Grand Hyatt, and the great town of San Diego? Thanks to the heroic efforts of Larry A. Gould, our Executive Director, we are visiting one of the finest Hyatt properties in the US; what a grand place this is! As noted in the article I contributed to the Spring 2019 Newsletter, “What I can see from my window?” wonderful sights and flavors are literally outside the door of the hotel. In our advance trip last fall, I was reminded fondly of what a great time I had living in San Diego while completing my PhD. Perhaps we can visit some of my old haunts; please connect with me at the conference, and “off we go!” As to getting around in town, no shortage of options awaits you – dockless bikeshares, “those darn, but fun scooters,” the world famous San Diego Trolley, horse drawn carriages, bike rickshaws, a host of the other public transit links, and of course, your own 2 feet – what a great place to have a walkabout!

I close with my heartfelt thanks to Debra D. Andrist, WSSA President Elect and Conference Chair, and Dianne Berry, WSSA Program Editor, for working their magic of pulling the program together. I also offer similar thanks to Kate Herke and Larry A. Gould for all their “behind the scenes magic” that makes the conference and the WSSA the great things they are! Bienvenidos al San Diego!

Western Social Science Association

The Western Social Science Association (formerly the Rocky Mountain Social Science Association) was founded in 1958 when the Social Sciences Section of the Colorado-Wyoming Academy of Science was reconstituted as an independent organization. On January 1, 1975, the name was changed to the Western Social Science Association (WSSA) to reflect the geographical representation of the Association. The purpose of the WSSA is to foster professional study, to advance research, and to promote the teaching of the social sciences. Membership is open to all who share its aims. The WSSA publishes the Social Science Journal, a newsletter, and an annual program and abstracts for the conference. Several affiliated organizations meet concurrently with the WSSA and share in developing the program.

WSSA Give Back: Oregon Food Bank

Since 2012, the Western Social Science Association has been holding a Give Back event in conjunction with the Friday breakfast at its Annual Conference. This event raises several thousand dollars for the foodbank at each conference host city. This year we will be in Portland, Oregon. Following is some important information regarding the Oregon Food Bank. The mission of the Oregon Food Bank is “to eliminate hunger and its root causes...because no one should be hungry.” One of the unique aspects of the food bank in Oregon is that they “THINK BEYOND THE CAN!” In their work to eliminate hunger in Oregon, they believe in addressing the root causes of hunger through public policy, nutrition and garden education, as well as public awareness. They also focus on freshness with a goal this past year of distributing 15 million pounds of produce each year. Another important focus is to champion self-reliance through nutrition and garden programs, as well as community food organizing activities. A very important feature of the food bank is that they advocate for change. Aspects of their advocacy include urging lawmakers to make food a priority by investing in policies and programs, recognizing race and place as central determinants in individual and community health, combating systems and behavior which undercut food security, and finally cultivating new strategies for underserved communities with long-term solutions and day-to-day program delivery. One final noteworthy aspect of the Oregon Food Bank is that they are dedicated to ensuring that no one goes hungry today, that Oregon becomes the first state without hunger, and that people experiencing hunger are at the center of all they do.

Look for the OREGON FOOD BANK at the conference breakfast and please support them with a donation to help fight hunger!
