Welcome!

Dear Social Science Colleagues:

Welcome one and all to the 2019 Western Social Science Association Annual Meeting we are hosting in lovely San Diego. At the risk of sounding like a carnival mark, “have we got a show for you!” As I welcome you as the president of WSSA, I am reminded fondly of how I became involved in the organization. As a graduate student many years ago, I attended the annual meetings held in Reno, Nevada, and in my interaction with Ed Williams, a very accomplished scholar doing great border research, Ed noted to me, “careful, you most likely will end up as President one day!” Ed, you are right! Over the last 20 years, I have been an active member of the WSSA, and its borderland section, the Association for Borderlands Scholars. In my arc with these groups, I remember Jim Peach advising, “you really should get involved with the WSSA Board, a great way to keep the WSSA and ABS connected and to give back to the WSSA.” After two stints on the Board and one term as Vice President, you all elected me as President Elect. It was an honor last year to transition to the President of this great group. On with the show!

This year’s conference promises to be one of the most highly attended and quality events in our history. At press time, we had a total of 1,005 individual papers, 252 separate session panels, and the large block of rooms at the Hyatt Manchester sold out at the earliest date we have ever experienced. As people that have attended past WSSA conferences can attest, we truly are an inclusive, warm, and supporting group. Literally hundreds of people with a passion for applied social science research have found a home here, and our work is especially relevant to many of the challenges that the world currently faces. To highlight our potential contribution to solving these challenges, I have organized a transdisciplinary roundtable that goes off at 8am on Thursday, “Making the case for the relevance of social science in addressing current global, national, and regional challenges.” I hope to see you “early birds” there.

Ok, but what about the conference venue, the Manchester Grand Hyatt, and the great town of San Diego? Thanks to the heroic efforts of Larry A. Gould, our Executive Director, we are visiting one of the finest Hyatt properties in the US; what a grand place this is! As noted in the article I contributed to the Spring 2019 Newsletter, “What I can see from my window?” wonderful sights and flavors are literally outside the door of the hotel. In our advance trip last fall, I was reminded fondly of what a great time I had living in San Diego while completing my PhD. Perhaps we can visit some of my old haunts; please connect with me at the conference, and “off we go!” As to getting around in town, no shortage of options awaits you – dockless bikeshares, “those darn, but fun scooters,” the world-famous San Diego Trolley, horse drawn carriages, bike rickshaws, a host of the other public transit links, and of course, your own 2 feet – what a great place to have a walkabout!

I close with my heartfelt thanks to Debra D. Andrist, WSSA President Elect and Conference Chair, and Dianne Berry, WSSA Program Editor, for working their magic of pulling the program together. I also offer similar thanks to Kate Herke and Larry A. Gould for all their “behind the scenes magic” that makes the conference and the WSSA the great things they are! Bienvenidos al San Diego!

WSSA 61st Annual Conference Scholarship, Service, and Collegiality

Western Social Science Association

The Western Social Science Association (formerly the Rocky Mountain Social Science Association) was founded in 1958 when the Social Sciences Section of the Colorado-Wyoming Academy of Science was reconstituted as an independent organization. On January 1, 1975, the name was changed to the Western Social Science Association (WSSA) to reflect the geographical representation of the Association. The purpose of the WSSA is to foster professional study, to advance research, and to promote the teaching of the social sciences. Membership is open to all who share its aims. The WSSA publishes the Social Science Journal, a newsletter, and an annual program and abstracts for the conference. Several affiliated organizations meet concurrently with the WSSA and share in developing the program.

WSSA Give Back

Look for this year's Give Back beneficiary, The Jacobs & Cushman San Diego Food Bank.

Since 2012, the Western Social Science Association has been holding a Give Back event in conjunction with the Friday breakfast at its Annual Conference. The event has raised several thousand dollars for the foodbank in each conference host city and the surrounding communities. Every year conference attendees have responded with generosity, and their generosity has embodied the service at the heart of the WSSA's mission. The Give Back has become so important that the donation table for the local foodbank has become a highlight of WSSA conferences.

Continuing this great tradition depends on conference attendees and their donations. Can the WSSA count on you again this year? All donations are tax deductible, and the WSSA will provide receipts for them at the donation table. 100 percent of all donations will go directly to the San Diego Food Bank, which has a four-star rating (the highest possible rating) from Charity Navigator. In operation since 1977, the Jacobs & Cushman San Diego Food Bank is the largest independent hunger-relief organization in San Diego County, providing food to 370,000 people every month through more than 400 nonprofit partners and 200 direct distributions. The Food Bank's mission is to provide nutritious food to people in need, advocate for the hungry, and educate the public about hunger-related issues. As a very lean and efficient organization, 93 cents out of every dollar donated to the Food Bank goes directly to programs and services. Programs and Initiatives include numerous programs: Emergency Food Assistance, Senior Food, Neighborhood Distribution, Food 4 Kids Backpack, CalFresh Outreach, Food Rescue, College Hunger-Relief, Diaper Bank, and Nutrition. Last year, the Food Bank distributed more than 28 million pounds of food - 34% was nutritious fresh fruits & vegetables. More than 20,000 volunteers work hard to sort, pack and distribute food, as well as assist with administrative projects and events. The San Diego Food Bank is all about Fighting Hunger and Feeding Hope.

Look for the Jacobs & Cushman San Diego Food Bank at the Conference!

WSSA 2019 Spotlight on a Local Organization

Environmental Health Coalition

The Environmental Health Coalition (<https://www.environmentalhealth.org>) was officially founded in 1980 as the Coalition Against Cancer. As knowledge increased about the relationship between serious health effects and the chemicals used in homes and workplaces this organization has become a leader in the environmental justice movement. The Environmental Health Coalition is dedicated to achieve environmental and social justice and is a resource for community-based organizations working in the fields of environmental health and justice, social justice, human rights and environmental sustainability. They believe that justice is accomplished by empowered communities acting together to make social change. They organize and advocate to protect public health and the environment threatened by toxic pollution. EHC supports broad efforts that create a just society and fosters a healthy and sustainable quality of life.

The WSSA recognizes organizations like the Environmental Health Coalition that empower people, organize communities, and achieve justice.
